PROFESSIONAL PROFILE

Clinical psychologist with academic training in Cognitive-Behavioral Clinical Psychology and postgraduate specialization in Child and Adolescent Psychotherapy. Grounds his practice in the Person-Centered Approach of Carl Rogers, learned under the mentorship of Father Evaristo Vasconcelos. Holds diverse experience across clinical, community, and institutional settings—from supporting individuals in vulnerable situations (homelessness, addiction, oncology) to cultural mediation in museums. Values authentic human connection, empathy, and psychological well-being as the cornerstones of his professional work.
